

My letter quoted on CNN Newsmaker Sunday, 1992

In regards to the 1992 Presidential election campaign, I wrote a letter to CNN, a portion of which was read on-air (not my favourite part of the letter, but a part). Air date: 1992 July 5, 10:30 a.m. & 5:30 p.m. EDT. The portion of the show in which my letter was quoted is given below, taken from the official transcript of the show which was sent to me after the air date.

Mr. Sesno: Finally, there were a few letters expressing doubt about Mr. Perot.

Betsy McCall of Concord, Ohio thinks Perot has some interesting ideas, but, she writes,

"The more I hear about his views on broader issues, the more concerned I become. I'm not sure who I'll vote for yet, but I'm definitely leaning away from Ross Perot."

Interesting ideas? I compared him to Alberto Fujimura of Peru who was putting members of his government under house arrest for disagreeing with him. I wish I still had the original letter, but it's been almost 15 years, and I just don't.
